

---

For Parents: This week your child has been exploring Spring as a sign of the creativity of our natural world. Perhaps you could explore with your child, from your own world-view or religious tradition your belief in divine presence in nature or how we should respect and care for the earth and its creatures.

