

For Parents: This week your child has been learning about the little world of the personal in relation to the big world or the universal, in the story of the snail whose home is on its back and the big world or garden that the snail lives in. You might like to pray/ meditate with your child, on the goodness of their which we live...