

For Parents

This week all children have been exploring various stories about light and dark and also the symbolism of light and darkness. You might like to reflect with your child on this time of year, when the days are at their shortest and nights are at their longest, and the significance of this symbolism from your own faith perspective or world view.