

This little skeleton likes to run fast. Give it some colourful bones to help.

For Parents

This week your child has been exploring the human body and learning to appreciate at a very simple level, what it is and how it works, You might like to pray/reflect with your child on the wonder and beauty of their own body.