

For Parents

This week your child has been exploring friendship, particularly friendship between friends who have differences. You might like to pray/reflect with your child on the importance of making friends and on the value of taking others and otherness, into our lives and friendships.