

Colour the faces. Draw some of your own.

For Parents

This week your child has been exploring 'feelings'. He or she has been encouraged to recognise different feelings and understand them as part of being human. You might like to pray/reflect with your child according to your faith/belief/tradition on the value of feelings in our lives and their part of all relationships, including, if you feel appropriate, a relationship with the divine.