

For Parents

This week your child has been learning about the processes of nature through which we come to have food such as the apple to eat. You might like to pray/reflect with your child on the wonderful ways of nature and the simplicity, yet beauty and goodness of simple things, such as the apple.