

For Parents

This week your child has been learning to recognize signs of winter. He or she has been learning to appreciate winter for the quiet time that it can be, especially in the natural world and where appropriate, to begin to appreciate that, in God, there is also quietness, stillness and love that keeps us warm, as winter ticks by.

You might like to pray/reflect with your child on the experience of winter in our world.

© Copyright www.preschoolcoloringbook.com