

For Parents.

This week your child has been exploring 'birthday' and his or her growth and development from year to year as worthy of celebration. You might like to pray/reflect with your child on the significance of birthdays and of the rituals that surround them in your family, culture or religious tradition.

How many candles for you?

