

The earth is a home ...

For Parents

This week your child has been exploring many different understandings of 'home' but particularly that the world is home for us all. You might like to pray/reflect with your child, from the perspective of your faith or belief tradition, on the world as our shared home.

... to us all!