This Is Not My Hat, Jon Klassen

When a tiny fish shoots into view wearing a round blue top hat (which happens to fit him perfectly), trouble could be following close behind. So it's a good thing that enormous fish won't wake up. And even if he does, it's not as though he'll ever know what happened, will he. Visual humour swims to the fore as the bestselling Jon Klassen follows his break-out debut with another deadpan-funny tale.

Useful for supporting all Thinking Time Learning Outcomes .

Could be used to support a wider exploration into Beliefs and Religions Strand with particular focus on Beliefs and Practices

Here We Are, Oliver Jeffers

Our world can be a bewildering place, especially if you've only just got here. Your head will be filled with questions, so let's explore what makes our planet and how we live on it. From land and sky, to people and time, these notes can be your guide and start you on your journey. And you'll figure lots of things out for yourself. Just remember to leave notes for everyone else... Some things about our planet are pretty complicated, but things can be simple, too: you've just got to be kind.

Could be used to support a wider exploration into Beliefs and Religions Strand and in particular as a launch into the Special Places Learning Outcome

Oliver Jeffers wrote this book to his son during the first two months of his life as a way of introducing the world to him. This could be used as inspiration for collaborative project work between teachers, students and parents.

Mud Mosque in Mali - Human Planet (Deserts)

The Great Mosque in Djenné, Mali is not only the world's largest mud brick building but also a model of ecofriendly and sustainable architecture.

This 5 min clip captures the annual community celebration and care for their Mosque. Everyone is involved as they follow nature's lead in preserving their place of worship, including the children.

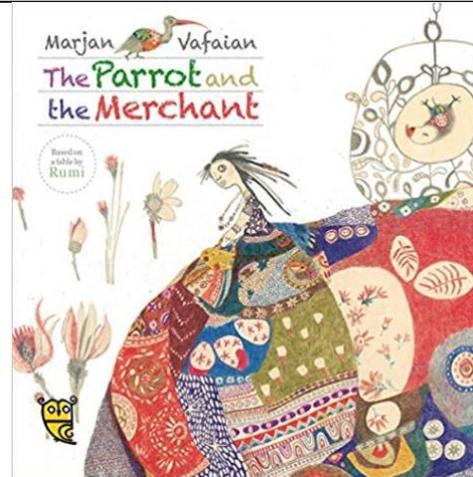

The image shows a YouTube video player interface. The video title is "Mud Mosque in Mali - Human Planet (Deserts)". The video has 9,823 views and 49 likes. The video player shows a thumbnail of a large, multi-towered mud brick mosque with a red door. The video player controls show a progress bar at 0:58 / 4:53. Below the video player is the URL: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=FIKwuEnOdNY>

A lovely clip particularly suitable for Third Class. As well as serving as a stimulus for a Full Fat P4C Inquiry and therefore supporting All Learning Outcomes for the Thinking Time Strand, this contrasting community could be used to help support the Learning Outcomes for Beliefs and Religions Strand with concepts relating to All Learning Outcomes.

The Parrot and the Merchant (Tales by Rumi) Hardcover – by Rumi (Author), Pippa Goodhart (Editor), Marjan Vafaian (Illustrator)

The merchant Mah Jahan loves to keep colourful birds in cages, especially a parrot who can talk to her. But when the parrot asks her to bring something back from her trading trip to India, Mah Jahan learns a valuable lesson about how to treat the things and people you love.
